

UAMS Department of Emergency Medicine Faculty, Trainee Presentations
Academic Assembly of the Council of Residency Directors in Emergency Medicine

CORD is the preeminent Emergency Medicine education organization in the world. Almost 2,000 EM educators attended the 2021 Academic Assembly held virtually April 11-15.

Didactic Presentations:

- Who Runs the World? Lessons from an All-Female Program Leadership Team
 - Sarah Greenberger, MD, Associate Professor and Residency Director
 - Rachael Freeze-Ramsey, MD, Professor and Associate Residency Director
 - Amanda Young, MD, Assistant Professor and Assistant Residency Director
- Great Expectations: the Effects of Gender on Resident Evaluations
 - Meredith Von Dohlen, MD, Clinical Instructor and Medical Education Fellow
 - Meryll Pampolina, MD, Assistant Professor
 - Heidi Meredith, MD, PGY1 Resident
- The Chimera Curriculum: A Novel Hybrid Approach to Residency Didactics
 - Amanda Young, MD, Assistant Professor and Assistant Residency Director
 - Christopher Fowler, DO, Assistant Professor and Clerkship Director
 - Sarah Greenberger, MD, Associate Professor and Residency Director

Research Presentations:

The team from our Division of Education presented two oral research abstracts.

- Changes in Faculty Attendance at Resident Conferences After Transitioning to a Virtual Format
- Changes in Resident Conference Attendance After Transitioning to a Virtual Format
- Team members included:
 - Lauren Evans, MD, Assistant Professor and Assistant Clerkship Director
 - Meryll Pampolina, MD, Assistant Professor
 - Meredith Von Dohlen, MD, Clinical Instructor and Medical Education Fellow
 - Amanda Young, MD, Assistant Professor and Assistant Residency Director
 - Christopher Fowler, DO, Assistant Professor and Clerkship Director
 - Rachael Freeze-Ramsey, MD, Professor and Associate Residency Director
 - Sarah Greenberger, MD, Associate Professor and Residency Director
 - Carly Eastin, MD, Associate Professor and Co-Chief, Division of Research and EBM
 - Travis Eastin, MD, MS, Associate Professor and Chief, Division of Education

Judging:

Lauren Evans, MD, served as a judge in the annual Clinical Pathologic Case (CPC) Competition.